Why The RemyFX?

implement high-end laser therapy for his/her patients.

When you invest in a laser for your practice...

it should meet three important criteria:

One: It should be effective & result in desired patient outcomes.

Two: It should be affordable for the patient.

Three: It should result in ROI quickly for your practice.

What Clinicians are Saying

I've been meaning to reach out to you to let you know happy I am with the laser. It has been working flawlessly and patients are very pleased. It has been a great addition to my practice!

David Uss, PT | Fairfield, CT

I had 10 laser treatments yesterday and 12 today. All treatments are with spinal manipulation except for one.... 61-year old lady comes in with very severe hot low back pain. She didn't want to do x-rays, so I really couldn't manipulate because I didn't know what was in there. I didn't want to let her go in so much pain, so I treated her with the laser (lumbar 10 minutes). The first treatment got a very positive response... repeated laser three days in a row and now the lumbar pain is dramatically reduced by at least 90%.

Tony Paolucci, DC | Parker , Colorado

I have utilized the RemyFX, 45watt laser over the last two years in my chiropractic office. There is no comparison using this high-powered quality laser to the previous underpowered lasers I have used in the past. The amazing clinical results with a multitude of conditions and financial benefits have made it one of the best investments in my 42 years of practice!

How Class IV Laser Therapy Works

Laser therapy light is infra-red electro-magnetic energy entering the body as photons.

Tissues targeted are stimulated to increase production of a cellular enzyme (Cytochrome C Oxidase) that is critical to the production of ATP.

ATP is the currency of chemical energy in living cells. With increased ATP production and thus greater cellular energy a host of biological responses are facilitated, such as mediation of pain, reduction of inflammation, reduced scar tissue, increased cell metabolism, improved vascular activity, and accelerated healing.

This is the photo-chemical effect of High Power Laser Therapy.
